

DIVYA PRAABHAVAM

when divinity blossoms in each heart

Centenary Year Edition

Dear Sisters and Brothers,
Loving Sairams to you all!

Celebrating 100 years of Divine Love

As we stand at the threshold of a divine milestone - the centenary birth year of our beloved Bhagawan Sri Sathya Sai Baba - our hearts overflow with gratitude. A hundred years have passed since the descent of Pure Love, a radiance that continues to illumine hearts with its timeless light.

Through the Sri Sathya Sai Premaarpitham Foundation, this Love finds enduring expression - in selfless service, in nurturing values, in uniting hearts. Every initiative, whether humble or vast, is rooted in the essence of His Love, strengthened by His guidance, and blessed by His grace.

This special edition of Divya Praabhavam commemorates a century of the Love that took human form and continues to flow ceaselessly into countless lives. As we reflect on this sacred legacy, we also renew our commitment to carrying it forward - by aligning our thoughts, words, and actions with His divine mission.

May every act become an offering of Love - Premaarpitham - for that is the truest celebration of His Love, His legacy, and the light of His hundred years on Earth.

Guided by His Love, Grounded in His Mission

How Bhagawan Continues to Inspire the Four Pillars of Sri Sathya Sai Premaarpatham Foundation

Bhagawan's message of "Love All, Serve All" remains the spiritual compass guiding every initiative of the Sri Sathya Sai Premaarpatham Foundation. Each programme, each act of service, stems from His timeless vision of integral human development - one that nurtures both the heart and the hand, both the spirit and society.

Through the four service pillars - Prema Dayini (Nutrition), Kshema Dayini (Healthcare), Gnyana Dayini (Education), and Shubha Dayini (Women's Empowerment) - the Foundation continues to translate His teachings into living action, reaching the rural heartlands, where need meets opportunity and compassion meets purpose.

Prema Dayini (Nutrition)

Through Prema Dayini, Bhagawan's principle of selfless love finds expression in nourishment. Rural school-going children, the elderly and abandoned animals receive wholesome meals and nutritional care - simple acts of love that affirm the divinity present in every being.

Kshema Dayini (Healthcare)

Echoing Bhagawan's vision of "health as the foundation of happiness," Kshema Dayini extends preventive, promotive, and curative care to underserved women and communities. From rural health camps to referral networks, every healing touch is a manifestation of His boundless compassion.

Gnyana Dayini (Education)

Inspired by Bhagawan's call to make education a means for transformation, not mere information, Gnyana Dayini nurtures character-centred learning. In rural classrooms, children discover not only the power of knowledge but also the joy of values - honesty, discipline, and compassion - that shape them into responsible citizens and compassionate humans.

Shubha Dayini (Women's Empowerment)

Bhagawan often said, "The home is the first school, and the mother is the first teacher." Shubha Dayini embodies this belief by equipping women with life skills, self-confidence, and livelihoods that restore dignity and independence. Every empowered woman becomes a catalyst for family and community upliftment.

Each of these pillars stand not merely as a project but as a living prayer, an expression of gratitude to the Divine Master who continues to guide, protect, and inspire. His Love remains the Foundation's true heartbeat, silent, steady, and ever-present — transforming service into sadhana and compassion into collective strength.

Love in Action: Stories from the Four Dayinis

“Prema Dayini has been a great blessing for our children.”

“I teach Social Science at this school, and many of our students come from families that struggle to make ends meet. Their parents leave early for work, and the children often arrived hungry. The Prema Dayini initiative has been a blessing — the Ashram now provides a freshly cooked, nutritious breakfast every morning. The children truly enjoy the variety of dishes, many of which they rarely get at home. Since it began, attendance has risen to nearly 99 per cent, and the children are more energetic, cheerful, and eager to learn.”

“Kshema Dayini has brought healthcare at our doorsteps.”

“When my child was very unwell, we called the ambulance for help. It arrived immediately, and the driver ensured we reached the hospital safely. Earlier, our village didn’t have such a facility, and getting medical help on time was very difficult. Now, the ambulance service comes promptly whenever needed, bringing great relief to all of us. The regular medical camps have also been a huge blessing, helping many villagers receive timely check-ups, treatment, and medicines. We are truly grateful for this life-saving support.”

“Gnyana Dayini has transformed my child for the better.”

“My son wasn’t good at studies. But ever since he started attending tuition classes at Vaatsalyam, he has become disciplined, responsible, and respectful toward elders. Earlier, he would drop his bag and run out to play; now he keeps his things neatly and eagerly gets ready for tuition.

All the village children have changed, too. They take part in events at the ashram with enthusiasm. We feel proud watching them learn and grow. The ashram has truly brought education, nourishment, and love to our doorstep.”

“Shubha Dayini changed my life”

“Before coming to Vaatsalyam, my life revolved around household work and caring for my children - simple but limited. Hearing about the Shubha Dayini, filled me with hope. From the first day, I felt peace and purpose here; Vaatsalyam truly is a temple of knowledge and love. I have learnt tailoring, embroidery, and other crafts. Tailoring gave me confidence, while mat weaving taught me that with effort and Swami’s grace, nothing is impossible. I am now pursuing the advanced course, and hope to start my own tailoring shop.”
